- B - Permit or license valid but establishment not open for business at a particular time of year (seasonal). The establishment still has a valid permit or license, therefore, each quarter the B status is reported, an Environmental Health specialist should verify that the establishment is not operating. An inspection sheet should be completed and submitted to this office with the date the verification is made and the “B” status can go to an A, B, C, D, H, G, E or J status at a later date.
- C - Permit or license valid but establishment not open for business for unknown reasons (bankruptcy, etc.) The establishment still has a valid permit or license but it cannot be determined why the establishment is closed. Since the permit or license is still valid, an Environmental Health specialist must verify the establishment is not operating each quarter and submit an inspection sheet to document the date the verification is made. An establishment with a “C” status can go to an A, B, E, G, H or J status at a later date.

When establishment has been closed for one (1) year and the closure has been properly documented, it must be put into the “J” status by the local health department.
